Imaginative products for professional caterers

What we do...

Good wholesome foods

We tailor our products for the busy kitchen
We think about what a great gastro pub will want to serve
In a busy kitchen chef can't make everything.. ..so wants to buy in quality products

Made by hand

We are proud of what we make
We call it a factory but really it's a bigger version of your kitchen
Much of what we do is hand prepared

Quality ingredients

We try and use what you have in your larder
We avoid the nasty E numbers and hydrogenated things
We try and source British and indeed local ingredients

Serving caterers across the market...

National & regional chains

Creating menu ideas to fit your market
Developing new products
Production in quality production facilities
Delivering on time to order

Wholesalers

A wide range of products for your market
Marketing support packages to drive end user purchase
Fast and flexible delivery

Independent caterers

With our products you can offer a great varied menu
We are doing the prep.. ..you simply cook and finish
With our quality you can be sure to delight your customers

Why we are a successful business:

- We do our level best to understand the needs of our customers
- We take care to meet your brief and develop for you great products
- We do our best to give you a great level of service

... we love what we do and making your business successful will in turn do the same for ours!

NPD is at the heart of what we do

- We suspect that when you give us a brief you'll be in a hurry.. ..we'll respond to this need!
- We'll move quickly in responding to your brief, development and providing you with samples, manufacture and delivery
- When it comes to seafood, meat and poultry we have a good deal of experience
 - Finally, we won't insist on massive volumes!
...we enjoy the challenge!
